Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Student Agricultural Clubs: A Survey of the Organization and Activities of the Agricultural Clubs in the State College and Universities of the United States Purpose of Survey During the month of January, 1920, the Rutgers Agricultural Club was revived after a year and a half s suspension due to war conditions. It was desired not only to bring back to our. campus the club as it had previously existed but to make it a better club and thus shorten its period of reconstruction. Quite naturally the activities of similar clubs at other universities were observed as an aid to forming a successful years program. Many clubs were still in the state of dissolution, some feebly struggling for existence, and others in a healthy condition. It was evident that numerous clubs were, and would continue to be, in a state of flux searching for a constructive policy and the means of putting it into operation. To gather helpful information, then, is the purpose of this survey. Ways and Means To Gather the data, the president of the club during the year 1919-20, F. R. Dulany, formulated a questionnaire and sent it to the clubs in the State colleges and universities. By June, two-thirds of them had been returned and Commencement days found the work uncompleted. The accumulated data were turned over to the club January, 1921, and entrusted to the present Publications Committee, for study and publication. More questionnaires were sent out and the number of those answered increased from thirty-three to fifty-four. Improvement of the questionnaire was not attempted because of the amount of previous data. It was endeavored by special correspondence to obtain more...
