Excerpt: .of the knife and applied a thin coating of it to all the iron tools used in the monastery. And such was the abiding virtue of the Saint s blessing that these tools could never afterwards inflict a wound on flesh.¹ That Columba exercised great care in transcription, and also in their preservation when finished, may be gathered from the following occurrence. One day Baithen, his disciple and immediate successor in the abbacy of Iona, came to the Saint and said, I want some one of the brethren to look over with me and correct the Psalter which I have written. Hearing this, Columba said, Why give me this trouble without any cause? In that Psalter of thine of which thou speakest, there is not one superfluous letter to be found, nor is any wanting except the one vowel I. And accordingly, when the...
