To encourage and aid the many who are commencing the cultivation of the vine, and the making of pure wine from grapes and other kinds of fruit, is the chief motive in publishing these pages. The writings of many who have contributed essentially to advance this useful branch of horticulture, have been freely consulted and compiled, and it is believed that judicious selections from practical writers and successful cultivators, will be more acceptable, than a lengthy detail of abstract opinions alone. From my! own experience in grape culture and wine-making, though limited, and from the decided opinions of those well informed, it is evident that our nation need never import another gallon of foreign wine, or any kind of spirituous liquors that the vine is a native of our own soil and climate, (which cannot be said of it in Europe,) and that wine has within a few years been made here, which has of the same age, excelled some of the best wines of the old world. In truth an article far better and more medicinal for people of our climate, can be made from our native Blackberry than most which is imported at high cost; and could our native wines supersede those now mostly used, those vile compounds called pure Port, Malaga, Champagne, c., and chiefly compounded of whiskey, cider, sugar of lead, logwood, green corm, etc., would take their final exit from our land, and also would take away in their flight their usual concomitants, impaired health, and vitiated appetite for spirituous liquors. It is not supposed that the great leading interest in this latitude in...
